COUNTRY SINGER SONGWRITER

Briana Lyn is a country singer-songwriter making her mark in Los Angeles and Nashville with a voice and spirit that audiences often compare to Dolly Parton — warm, soulful, and undeniably authentic. Her sound blends modern country grit with heartfelt storytelling that leaves a lasting impression.

Briana Lyn regularly headlines standout LA venues like The Dresden, Hotel Cafe, Aviator Nation, and Molly Malone's, captivating crowds with her powerful vocals and emotional connection. Her performances are intimate yet electric — the kind that pull you in and stay with you.

Her latest original release, "Little Girl," is a deeply personal anthem about holding onto your dreams and the courage it takes to chase them. It's a defining example of her artistry: vulnerable, strong, and unmistakably country.

In addition to her original music, Briana performs Love, Dolly — a live show that pays tribute to the legendary Dolly Parton. Rather than imitate, she offers her own interpretation of the classics, honoring the songwriting and soul that make Dolly's music timeless.

As a signed writer with a Nashville-based publishing company, Briana actively collaborates with fellow songwriters and musicians, crafting music that bridges heartfelt authenticity with commercial appeal.

Briana Lyn is a rising voice in country music — rooted in storytelling, inspired by legends, and carving out a sound that's all her own.
